

February 13, 2020 1-2:15 PM
AOK Library Gallery

Ruth Gomberg-Muñoz
Associate Professor
Department of Anthropology
Loyola University of Chicago

Project Solidarity Translocal Research with Migrant and Deportee- Rights Activists

This talk will describe “Project Solidarity,” a binational research and advocacy project designed to support deportee rights organizing in Mexico City and strengthen connections between U.S.-based and Mexico-based organizations. As I present preliminary results from our collaborative multi-year research project on deportation, I will also consider the broader political goals and possibilities of translocal migrant-rights organizing.

This event is sponsored by UMBC's Eminent Scholar Program and is part of Dr. Sarah Fouts' course, Food Ethnography in America in the Department of American Studies. UMBC is committed to creating an accessible and inclusive environment for all faculty, staff, students, and visitors. To request accommodations, please contact us at sfouts@umbc.edu.