ABOUT: This paid, eight-week, full-time (40 hours/week) program is designed for undergraduate students with little to no previous museum experience. The program introduces interns to museum work as they concentrate on one assigned department compatible with their interests or career goals. Interns are matched with one of the museums' departments that may include:

- Advancement (Development and Membership)
- Collections Management (Archives, Collections Management, Imaging and Photographic Services)
- Curatorial (Curatorial, Library, Scholarly Programs and Publications)
- Operations and External Affairs
- (Design, Production, and Publications; Engagement and Visitor Experience; Exhibition Planning; Finance and Administration; Marketing and Communications; Public Programs; Special Events)
- Directors (Global Affairs)

We seek talented individuals of all backgrounds. We value diversity of cultures, races and ethnicities, gender expressions, and abilities.

Dates: June 16 – August 8, 2025

Stipend: Total amount is $6,800 for successful completion of the internship. Housing, benefits, and transportation are not provided.

Location: We plan for either fully on-site or hybrid (part on-site and part virtual) internships in Washington, DC. Exact type will depend on our museum staffing capacity and other factors.
