

Childcare, Babysitting, and Parent Resources for the UMBC Community

Curated by the Women's Center

Inclusive Excellence is integral to the UMBC culture and campus community. Among a diverse group of people who make up the UMBC community, parents, particularly mothers, experience their own challenges and successes. Several years ago, the Women's Center created this publication of resources for the parents of UMBC. The Women's Center continues to update it each semester and on an as-needed basis. Knowing the challenges that some may have with finding childcare for their children, this collection of resources will hopefully make this task easier.

If you have recommendations for edits to share, please kindly share them with us by emailing womenscenter@umbc.edu

The Women's Center

The Women's Center at UMBC advances gender equity from an intersectional feminist perspective through co-curricular programming, support services, and advocacy for marginalized individuals and communities. We prioritize critical social justice as our community value, with a deliberate focus on women, gender, anti-racism, and feminism.

Regional/National Search Databases:

All parents and families have a variety of needs and interests. One size does not fit all. No matter what your individual circumstances are, as a parent, you want the best for your children. Using the databases below can be a good way to start a search based on the needs of your children and family.

- ◇ Maryland Family Network works with parents, child care providers, advocates, employers, and policymakers to expand and enhance the early childhood education and child care available to Maryland's children. Many services developed by MFN are now provided by the Maryland Child Care Resource Network, a statewide network of local child care resource centers (CCRCs). Child care services listed throughout the MFN website will refer you to your local CCRC. See final page of document for more information. marylandfamilynetwork.org
- ◇ Child Care Maryland is a database that keeps up-to-date compliance information about private day cares. checkccmd.org
- ◇ Baltimore City Child Care Resource Center (BCCCRC) is a program of Maryland Family Network, serves as the hub for issues relating to the care and education of young children in the City of Baltimore. BCCCRC is a private, non-profit organization, a member agency of the Maryland Child Care Resource Network, and serves parents, child care providers, the business community and others who are interested in early care and education. bccrc.org
- ◇ Care.Com is the largest and fastest growing service for finding high-quality caregivers for every facet of care: child care, special needs care, tutoring and lessons, senior care, pet care, housekeeping and more. Detailed profiles, references and background checks are available. care.com
- ◇ National Association of Child Care Resource and Referral Agencies (NACCRRA) promotes national policies and partnerships to advance the development and learning of all children and provides vision, leadership, and support to community Child Care Resource & Referral. naccrra.org
- ◇ Sitter City helps you find experienced babysitters and nannies in your area. Includes detailed profiles, background checks, and references and reviews. sittercity.com
- ◇ Catonsville/Arbutus Licensed Home Daycare Search is a Facebook page created for parents looking for daycare in the surrounding area facebook.com/groups/CatonsvilleDaycare/

Did You know?

Safety Seat Installation:

A large majority of child safety seats are not installed properly, but there are resources available to help ensure your child is safe.

Check out the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's guide to safety seats and their car seat safety inspection locator to find someone to help install your seat:

Things to Think About When Hiring A Babysitter

All parents and families have a variety of needs and interests. One size does not fit all. No matter what your individual circumstances are, as a parent, you want the best for your children. Some of these websites can be a good way to help your search based on the needs of your family.

What to Think About When Hiring Care: The reality is that you may not find a sitter who “has it all” but you still want to find the very best and right fit for your children. What are your non-negotiables and what’s just a nice extra? Here’s some questions to get you started:

urbansitter.com/blog/what-should-i-look-for-in-a-babysitter

Interview Questions for Hiring a Babysitter: If you need suggestions on what to ask while interviewing babysitters, this list has a lot of helpful examples of questions to ask.

Important Items to Discuss With Your Babysitter

Here are some questions to discuss when you are using a babysitter, especially for the first time:

- ◇ Have you left an updated list of the important and emergency phone numbers needed? This is including doctors, neighbors, friends, relatives, police, fire, and poison control center and ambulance/rescue squad?
- ◇ Have you left a work phone number where your babysitter can contact you? Have you explained whether it is acceptable to call for questions or only if there is an emergency?
- ◇ Have you explained any rules for the children that need to be followed, such as rules for the TV, computer or electrical appliances like the microwave? What about playing outside? Going to a friend’s house? Walking or riding bicycles around the neighborhood?
- ◇ Did you go over the general schedule of the day for your children? This is including times to eat, sleep, do homework, play.
- ◇ Can the babysitter take a small child out in a stroller to a park or for a walk around the neighborhood?
- ◇ Is it acceptable for the babysitter to answer the home phone?
- ◇ Is it necessary for the babysitter to have a key to the house in case they get locked out? Is there a house alarm system to be concerned about?
- ◇ If you have pets, did you explain their care as well?
- ◇ Can the babysitter change the temperature of the house via thermostat or air conditioner?

Did you know the Women’s Center is child-friendly?

Have your kids on campus with you? Do you have someone looking after your child while you’re in a meeting or class? Children are welcomed in the Women’s Center. We have a pack-n-play, coloring books, and a quiet room (that also can serve as the campus lactation room) that can be taken of advantage of while your children are on campus.

Pregnant and Parenting Students' Resources and Title IX

Title IX requires schools to accommodate pregnant and parenting students, but students often have to go out of their way to understand their rights.

The Pregnant and Parenting Students' Rights Toolkit alleviates that burden by providing quick and easy answers for students. This toolkit outlines the Title IX requirements schools must follow and actions students can take when faced with discriminatory practices.

University does not discriminate in offering equal access to its educational programs and activities or with respect to employment terms and conditions on the basis of a UMBC community member's pregnancy status. More information about the University's Notice of Non-Discrimination can be found at humanrelations.umbc.edu/non-discrimination/

Pregnant students are encouraged to register with Student Disability Services if they are requesting academic support for their pregnancy as a temporary condition. Students must initiate the process, which includes submitting documentation from the student's health care provider. Please contact SDS directly with questions about the process.

Do you need
a quiet place to breastfeed or pump?

The Women's Center can help.

The Women's Center offers a private lactation room with a hospital-grade breast pump and storage fridge.

Moms and parents who plan on using the Women's Center lactation room throughout the semester are encouraged to sign up for their preferred reservation times.

For parents needing access to the lactation room outside of the Women's Center hours of operation, please consult with Women's Center staff so we can accommodate you. The AOK Library also has a lactation room available that can be reserved here: library.umbc.edu/studyspaces.php

All parents who reserve times will be added to the lactation room google calendar and a group email list in order to support communication and best navigate multiple people using the space.

For questions and concerns, stop by the Women's Center during our hours of operation, give us a ring at 410-455-2714, or send us an email at womenscenter@umbc.edu.

What Parents Should Know:

Types of Child Care:

Family Child Care is child care provided in the caregiver's home. Regulations allow up to eight children at any one time (the specific number of children a provider is allowed to care for will be indicated on the registration certificate). No more than two of these children, including the provider's own, may be under two years old.

Group Child Care Centers are operated in "non-home" settings such as schools, churches, synagogues, and other buildings. Centers tend to be open on a fixed schedule of eight or more hours a day, year round. Children at centers are usually grouped with others of the same age.

School Age Care refers to programs for children before and/or after school hours and during school holidays and vacations. Both family child care and center-based settings can offer this kind of care.

Nursery Schools provide programs with an "educational" focus for children one or two years before they enter kindergarten. Usually, they operate part-day, nine months a year.

Kindergartens, both public and private, offer children the year of schooling before first grade. Usually, they operate part-day, nine months a year.

Summer Programs refer to center or school-based settings for school-age children, licensed by the Office of Child Care. The programs are offered during the summer months.

Camps refer to day, residential, travel or trip camps certified by the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene and provide primarily outdoor recreation activities.

Inclusion and Special Needs: According to the IDEA, any child care program receiving federal funding are required to include children with special needs.

Regulations in the State of Maryland:

In Maryland, the Department of Education/Office of Child Care (OCC) licenses family child care homes, child care centers, pre-school programs and school-age programs. A family child care home is required to be licensed if the provider is not related to each child and provides care on a regular basis for more than 20 hours per month. Other important regulations include:

- ◆ Criminal records check for family child care providers and all adult residents of their homes age 18+
Centers are required to have a criminal records check on all employees and volunteers age 18 and over.
- ◆ For every 20 children in the child care center there must be one staff member trained in First Aid and CPR. Family child care providers are required to have First Aid, CPR and SIDS training.
- ◆ Family child care providers and center staff are required to complete a specific amount training.
- ◆ Family child care homes are licensed for a maximum 8 children. Of these children, only 2 may be under the age of 2. The providers' children under age 6 are considered child care children.
- ◆ The license must be displayed in a location visible to parents. The provider's or program's capacity, as well as any license restrictions are shown on the license.
- ◆ Prior to admission to a child care center or family child care home, children are required to have a written health report including evidence of up-to-date immunizations. Children are excluded from care when they have symptoms of acute illness, or during the period of communicability of a serious infectious disease.
- ◆ Licensed child care providers must have an "open door" policy. Parents may visit and/or observe at any time when the program is operating, without prior arrangement.

The Women's Center seeks to provide important Information and resources to support parents on campus. We recognize that access to childcare and resources are essential to our enrollment, retention, graduation, and success of student parents, in the lives of their children, and to recruiting and retaining high quality faculty and staff.

We are committed to providing additional resources and support. Please continue to check the Women's Center
